OATH OF MEMBERSHIP

I, a member of NADAA, do solemnly vow that I will uphold the Constitution of our Association. I promise to practice my profession in such a manner that it will be an inspiration to all teachers to strive for improved ethics and a higher professional standard of practice. I will cherish and respect the ideals and purposes of our Association and promise to cooperate with the Chapter Officers and the National Officers of our organization in promoting unity and strength. So help me God.

7. ...not engage in any activity which is, or would create, a conflict of interest with NADAA.
8. ...not knowingly solicit or infringe upon another NADAA member’s clientele, business practices, curriculum, etc.
9. ...not deny any service to Members or Non-Members, because of his/her national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation, or physical or mental handicap.
10. ...honor all commitments both written and oral, in action and intent and strive to assure clarity and mutual understanding of all contractual relationships.
11. ...not solicit information proposals, agendas or ideas from another with the intent of taking unfair advantage of such.

AND IN RETROSPECT:

While these eleven basic points may come across as wordy and forced, I think you’ll find interesting something that dates back to the 1960’s brochure archives. Excerpted, it reads:

“Those who dare to teach must never cease to learn. The Symbol: (NADAA’s torch) of learning and progress for all dance teachers. We hope you will regard other dance teachers as colleagues rather than competitors. It is a mark of distinction to be a Member of NADAA. Prestige; Inspiration; Economy with quality; Greater Value; New material; Success; Ideas; Fellowship. In short, NADAA is the Association with the business head to guide, and the artistic heart to inspire their individual members to reach their greatest potential. NADAA leads the way and invites the cooperation of all dance teachers everywhere.”

No one can argue that these words are still not “trendy” by today’s standards. Some things never become outdated.

I have read the above stated Oath of Membership and Ethical Behavior and as, a member of NADAA agree to uphold these guidelines.
